

Kerry B. Callahan, MD

Undergraduate degree/Biological Sciences at Indiana University.
Doctor of Medicine from Oregon Health Sciences University
Residency at the OHSU Department of Family Medicine - chief resident.

Following that, he spent one year on an Academic Family Medicine Fellowship at University of North Carolina Department of Family Medicine Chapel Hill.

He has been a full time family practice physician at Portland Family Practice since 1994. He is an avid banjo player and enjoys traveling and spending time with his family.